Please fill out the form on p. 2 and return to LEJ by mail with your check.

"Calling Nature Home: Restoring Environmental Justice to a Wetland Habitat" Environmental Education Curriculum

LEJ's K-12 environmental education curriculum focuses on watershed studies, animals & habitats, plants, birds, water quality, marine biology, urbanization & habitat destruction, environmental justice, and environmental health. Activities match California's educational standards, including classroom and community-based activities. While the curriculum is based in the Hunters Point and Herons Head Park environments, many of the activities can be applied to any wetland area. 200 pgs. $25 includes shipping.

"Education NOT Contamination" Environmental Justice Curriculum

This curriculum provides seven in-depth lesson plans and materials that aim to illustrate the intersections between environmental justice and environmental health, covering topics of air pollution, Bay fish contamination, chemicals and biomonitoring, pesticides, community toxics mapping, food security, and open space. 240 pp. $30 includes shipping.

Good Neighbor Best Practices Guide

The LEJ Good Neighbor Best Practices Guide lays out the steps for a community to establish a corner store conversion program, discusses the Bayview Hunters Point experience, and outlines practices that have proved to be useful in both day-to-day operation and programmatic development. Includes a CD-ROM containing a complete set of document templates that can be adapted for local use. 12 pp plus CD-ROM. $50 community-based organizations; $300 institutional/government; includes shipping.

Good Neighbor Healthy Foods Cookbook

This cookbook was compiled by the LEJ Good Neighbor Youth to encourage the community to eat healthy fresh foods. The recipes are tasty, inexpensive, and easy to prepare at home. Nutrition tips help guard against diabetes, heart disease, and obesity. 250 pp. $10 Bayview Hunters Point residents; $25 all others; includes shipping.

Youth Impact: Youth-Led Evaluation of the Organizations that Serve Them

After two years of thorough investigation the young evaluators of Youth Impact completed their research of forty SF community-based organizations and determined what makes a youth community-based organization powerful. Find out what criteria young people use to gauge the effectiveness of the organizations serving them. This is a 'must-have' for anyone interested in youth and/or community development. 29 pp. $5 includes shipping SUPPLIES LIMITED
